

Valued patients, supporters, and friends of Ellen Jones Community Dental Center,

As you may know, Cape Cod Technical High School is building a new school. We are excited to see Cape Cod Tech grow and expand to meet the needs of students.

We are happy to announce that Ellen Jones Community Dental Center will also be relocating and expanding next year to meet the growing needs of our patients!

Ellen Jones has been a part of this community for close to 20 years and most of our patients come from Harwich, Dennis, and the lower Cape. We will be moving to a new location in the Harwich-Dennis area so we can continue to care for our community and the patients we love. Look for updates on the new location and when it will open soon.

When it's time to move, we do not anticipate any disruption in service.

Our dental care team is happy to answer any questions you have about the new location for Ellen Jones — you just have to ask!

Thank you for letting us be a part of keeping you healthy!
